INTRODUCTION:

Pālkuriki Sōmana (1160-1240), is a famous and first poet on saivism in Telugu literature. His works are Basava purāṇamu, Panditārādhya caritra, Anubhava sāramu, Vṛṣadhipa śatakamu, Caturvēda sāramu. The present descriptive study deals with the Finite Verbs in Basava purāṇamu of Pālkuriki Sōmana.

DEFINITION:

A Finite Verb is a form of a verb that has a subject conveyed or disguised and can function as the root of an independent clause; an independent clause can, in turn, stand alone as a complete sentence. In many languages, Finite Verbs are the locus of grammatical information of gender, person, number, tense, aspect, mood, and voice. At an elementary level, a Finite Verb is the verb in a sentence determining the tense.

In the formation of Finite verbs, Tense - mood suffix and personal suffix may be added to the verbal root. Finite Verbs are distinguished from Non-Finite Verbs, such as infinitives, participles, etc.

The present study is limited to the study of Finite verbal forms found in Basava purāṇamu of Pālkuriki Sōmana. The Finite Verbs found in Basava purāṇamu of Pālkuriki Sōmana may be divided into 1. Simple Finite verbs and 2. Compound Finite verbs.
